

Corporate & Transactional Matters

Baker & Daniels' professionals represent health care clients in all types of corporate and transactional matters. Services include corporate and bylaw issues, corporate restructuring, mergers and acquisitions, business formation, stock issuance, changes in ownership, participation in joint ventures, tax issues, physician and provider contracts, antitrust counseling and financing matters, such as bond counsel and hospital counsel in hospital bond issues.

Our health care professionals are actively involved in advising and assisting clients in the structuring of integrated delivery systems, including the establishment of physician-hospital joint ventures such as ASCs. These projects involve a wide range of substantive areas of the law, including tax exemption concerns, corporate law, securities, insurance, anti-referral rules, employee benefits and finance.